

At Manifesto our aim is to strike a balance between client work, internal projects and personal and team development. Wherever possible we will reflect your personal interests, preferences and desires.

The nature of our work as a consultancy is that it can be varied both in type and location. It can also be unpredictable. However, at a high level we have these principles for how we hope your time will be split.

We have to be realistic and particularly in the early days expect that we might not always be able to maintain these levels. Manifesto stands for: Collaboration, Innovation, Excellence and Change.

DRUPAL 8 DEVELOPER

/ The role:

This is a mid/senior development role, based in our team in Sofia. You will work closely with our UK technology team to deliver public facing digital solutions for a wide range of organisations. The role is likely to require some travel to Manifesto's London head office or client sites in the UK and Europe. As a Mid/Senior PHP/Drupal Developer you'll be creating technical solutions using a range of technologies with a focus on PHP.

/ Your contribution to something big:

- Analysing business problems and creating technical solutions to solve them
- To approach client challenges with creativity and to innovate when appropriate rather than always using the same solution to a problem
- Hands on bespoke development with a focus on PHP and associated platforms and frameworks
- Providing Drupal and general content management expertise and development
- When needed contributing to DevOps on projects
- Working alongside clients on site when projects need this
- Working with broader web technologies including HTML, JavaScript and CSS and associated technologies and frameworks when needed
- Working and/or Learning technologies outside your core expertise when projects need this
- Analysing existing solutions and highlighting/implementing improvements
- Working as part of a Scrum team to deliver projects - participating in all Scrum meetings

- Ensuring quality on our projects and contributing to ways of enhancing this
- Supporting our delivery team to deliver projects on-time
- Contributing to all elements of projects including the creative, user experience and handover into support
- Supporting and resolving issues relating to our existing solutions
- Contributing to company projects
- As a senior member of the team, part of your role is to provide excellent technical leadership and be a role model at Manifesto

/ Our ideal teammate has/is:

- 3 + years of experience using Drupal 8
- HTML/CSS and basic HTML knowledge
- Experience with PHP
- Jira
- Agile
