You'll report in to a Principal Engineer and will help him/her deliver on the technical strategy and tactical implementation. You'll interact, communicate and collaborate with the engineers based in London and Sofia.

/ Your contribution to something big:

- You'll be involved with the technical direction as well as day to day coding standards and best practices
- You'll be a mentor to your peers and team members, a source of technical expertise and will participate in strategic conversations with the rest of engineering and the business
- You'll feel comfortable presenting to internal teams as well as external Meetups and the like, representing the engineering work at News UK

/ Our ideal teammate has/is:

- You're a true engineer with a passion for well-crafted and tested code, considering everything from architecture and security to performance
- You understand agile methodologies and enjoy collaboration

- You have a continuous improvement mindset and are proactive in driving positive change, encouraging those around you to do the same
- You love engineering and constantly want to learn more
- You do thorough code reviews to be sure what we produce is of a very high standard
- You understand the value of and are a practitioner of TDD/BDD and understand the value of DevOps and building in metrics during development

/ Tech stack:

- Previous commercial experience with functional programming in Javascript
- Exposure to Node JS and Express framework
- HTML, CSS3 and CSS pre-processors and frameworks
- React and Flux/Redux for building responsive user interfaces and SPAs
- Strong experience designing, building, maintaining & integrating with REST APIs
- JavaScript testing frameworks (e.g. Jest, Jasmine and/or Mocha)
- Code analysis and type checking tools for Javascript (e.g. ESLint, Babel, Istanbul)
- Build and packaging tools (e.g. Grunt, Gulp, NPM or Yarn)
- Quality-led approach to development
- An interest in CI/CD tools and practices and a DevOps mindset
- Modern web concepts (Service Workers, Responsive Web Design, Progressive Web Apps, HTTP / 2)
